STEMxx Chats Parent Organization Future Chats Officially a Non-Profit

STEMxx Chats (www.stemxxchats.com) started on a mission to improve career navigation in STEM fields – making the process more efficient, more connected, and better informed. Aiming to repair the leaky pipeline in STEM education and catalyze a new wave of professionals committed to making positive change, we quickly realized that our new model for professional development could benefit many young people. We decided to incorporate the initiative as Future Chats, Inc. to maintain our STEM-specific efforts in our program arm of STEMxx Chats, while supporting our broad interest offerings and opportunities beneficial for improving professional development across disciplines.

We are happy to officially convey that Future Chats, Inc. is now officially a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization.

We will soon be announcing new fundraising efforts and details about the summer project we are embarking upon. There are obviously many needs for a fledgling organization and any amount of support can go a long way. We are especially eager to be able to provide scholarship funds to assist our core members' attendance to the STEMxx Chats Summer Workshop & Meet Up in June.

Again, we are indebted to the support of countless incredible individuals who have made this possible, and in this case, especially to the fabulous lawyers at Jones Day who made the process painless. Thank you for your continued encouragement and we look forward to continuing to make the world better with you. If you want to support us in any way or join us in these efforts, please get in touch.
